Examination och betyg

Kursen bedöms med betygen A, B, C, D, E, FX eller F.

The grades A, B, C, D and E are all passing grades. The final grade of the course is issued only when all course units have been passed.

The examination is based on instruction and course literature.

Examination is based on three assignments:

- An individual written assignment examining the intended learning outcomes as outlined above regarding knowledge and understandings, skills and abilities in relation to personal everyday life experiences and geographic context, 2.5 credits. The Assignment is graded A, B, C, D, E, Fx or F.
- A seminar examining the intended learning outcomes as outlined above regarding knowledge and understandings, skills and abilities, judgement and approach thematically and with reference to issues and geographic contexts. A written report is prepared in groups and examined individually through active participation in a seminar, 2.5 credits. The Assignment is graded Pass or Fail.
- An Individual written examination examining the intended learning outcomes as outlined above regarding knowledge and understandings of central theoretical perspectives and concepts and their definitions, 2.5 credits. The Assignment is graded A, B, C, D, E, Fx or F.

The final grade is determined as an average of the two assignments that are graded A, B, C, D, E, FX or F . The grade-point average is determined by dividing the number of grade points earned of both assignment by two. It also requires a pass on the third assignment graded as Pass or Fail. Grades B and A are valued as very good and superior respectively.

The examination must allow for students to be assessed on an individual basis. Students may not make a second attempt at any examination (or element of examination) already passed in order to receive a higher grade. Further information concerning assessment and grading criteria is provided in a study guide distributed at the beginning of the course.

Students are guaranteed a minimum of three examination occasions, including the regular occasion.

If a student has failed the same examination three times, the student is entitled to request that the next examination be assessed and graded by a new examiner if possible. The decision to accept or reject such a request is made by the vice dean of education.

In case the course is terminated or significantly altered, examination according to the present course syllabus shall be offered on at least two occasions in the course of one year after the termination/alteration.
