Contents

The course consists of writing a master thesis. The course includes coaching seminars, but is based on independent work. At the end of the course all students must defend their thesis at a public seminar, act as main opponent at another student seminar, and actively take part in three other final seminars.

Type of instruction

Seminar based tutoring.

The teaching is conducted in English.

Prerequisites

Bachelor degree in Business Administration (i.e the equivalent of 180 credits at an accredited university) and 15 credits advanced level courses in Business Administration (or the equivalent).

Examination and grades

The course is graded A, B, C, D, E, FX or F.

Thesis (ILOs 1-5, 7-8):

The thesis will be examined through the written thesis, oral presentations, and discussions in five final seminars (defense, opposition, and active participation in three additional final seminars). This represents 70% of the total course grade, equivalent to 10.5 credits. The thesis will be individually graded.

Thesis Process (ILOs 5-7):

The thesis process will be assessed through interaction with the supervisor and active participation in four tutoring seminars during the thesis writing process. This represents 30% of the total course grade, equivalent to 4.5 credits. The process will be individually graded.

Registration of examination:

Name of the Test	Value	Grading
Thesis ¹	10.5 credits	A/B/C/D/E/FX/F
Thesis process ¹	4.5 credits	A/B/C/D/E/FX/F

¹ All parts of the compulsory examination in the course must be passed with a passing grade (A-E) before a final grade can be set.

The final grade of the course is determined by the sum total of points for all parts of the examination in the course (0-100 points).

Grade is set in accordance to JIBS grading policy.

Course evaluation

It is the responsibility of the examiner to ensure that each course is evaluated. At the outset of the course, the programme evaluators in the course must be contacted. In the middle of the course, the examiner should meet the programme evaluators to identify strengths/weaknesses in the first half of the course.

At the end of the course, the examiner should remind students to fill in the survey. The examiner should also call a meeting with the programme evaluators to debrief the course, based on course evaluation data and comments. The next time the course runs, students should be informed of any measures taken to improve the course based on the previous course evaluations.

At the end of each study period, JIBS' Director of Quality and Accreditation crafts a "Course Evaluation Quarter Report", presenting the quantitative results from course evaluation surveys.

The Associate Dean of Education, The Associate Deans of Faculty, Programme Directors, and JSA President and Quality receive the report.

Other information

Students write the Master thesis in pairs. Even though the thesis is written in pairs the course is examined on an individual basis.

Academic integrity

JIBS students are expected to maintain a strong academic integrity. This implies to behave within the boundaries of academic rules and expectations relating to all types of teaching and examination.

Copying someone else's work is a particularly serious offence and can lead to disciplinary action. When you copy someone else's work, you are plagiarising. You must not copy sections of work (such as paragraphs, diagrams, tables and words) from any other person, including another student or any other author. Cutting and pasting is a clear example of plagiarism. There is a workshop and online resources to assist you in not plagiarising called the Interactive Anti-Plagiarism Guide.

Other forms of breaking academic integrity include (but are not limited to) adding your name to a project you did not work on (or allowing someone to add their name), cheating on an examination, helping other students to cheat and submitting other students work as your own, and using non-allowed electronic equipment during an examination. All of these make you liable to disciplinary action.

Course literature

Selected individually based on the thesis topic. The selection will be based on a discussion between students and tutors in relation to the chosen thesis topic.
