Type of instruction

The course combines one-on-one supervision between students and their academic mentor, and workshops in which students read and comment on one another's work, and review theoretical, methodological and practical aspects of one another's ongoing thesis project. Instruction will also be supplemented with web-based instructional platforms.

Students who have been admitted to and registered on a course have the right to receive instruction/supervision for the duration of the time period specified for the particular course to which they were accepted. After that, the right to receive instruction/supervision expires.

The teaching is conducted in English.

Prerequisites

General entry requirements and a bachelor's degree (i.e. the equivalent of 180 ECTS credits at an accredited university) within behavioral science, social work, educational sciences, or related field, including independent, theoretical-based work, i.e. a thesis or equivalent. The applicant must also have a minimum of one year experience working in supervised early childhood education and/or care settings (e.g. preschool, kindergarten, elementary school, daycare). Also completed courses The growth and development of the Swedish preschool: from social policy to educational policy, 10 credits, Preschool educational/didactical perspectives focusing on play, exploration and learning, 10 credits, Systematic documentation, analysis, evaluation and leadership in preschool, 10 credits and Theory of Science and Scientific Methods, 15 credits, and at least 15 passed credits from the first semester of the programme, or the equivalent. English proficiency is required. Exemption is granted from requirement in Swedish.

Examination and grades

The course is graded A, B, C, D, E, FX or F.

The grades A, B, C, D and E are all passing grades, while FX and F constitute failing grades.

To pass the course, the student must fulfill all the course requirements.

The student must write and orally present and defend their master's thesis. The oral defense of the thesis is conducted by a faculty examiner with the participation of a student peer opponent. The student must also read and critically evaluate a thesis written by a peer. The critique of the peer's thesis must be given orally during the peer's thesis defense.

The examination must allow for students to be assessed on an individual basis. Students may not make a second attempt at any examination (or element of examination) already passed in order to receive a higher grade. Further information concerning assessment and grading criteria is provided in a study guide distributed at the beginning of the course.

Students are guaranteed a minimum of three examination occasions, including the regular occasion.

If a student has failed the same examination three times, the student is entitled to request that the next examination is assessed and graded by a new examiner if possible. The decision to accept or reject such a request is made by the course coordinator, or, in case the course coordinator is also the examiner, by a person appointed by the Managing Director.

In case the course is terminated or significantly altered, examination according to the present course syllabus shall be offered on at least two occasions in the course of one year after the termination/alteration.

The thesis must be written in English.

Evaluations in the course will be based on the following exams:

1. Master's Thesis (15 Credits) – Grading: A, B, C, D, E, FX or F.

Registration of examination:

Name of the Test	Value	Grading
Master's (60 credit) Thesis	15 credits	A/B/C/D/E/FX/F

Course evaluation

At the end of the course, a course evaluation is performed and commented on by the course coordinator and, if possible, a student/students (course developer/s). The course evaluation, which is published on the relevant learning platform and submitted to the study administration, is to function as a basis for future improvements to the course.
